Helikon-Tex®

is a brand made for those who love to spend their time being active.

With its roots deep in the military and survival world, we offer gear that is both highly functional and comfortable. Drove by our motto - #JourneyToPerfection, for 40 years we're listening to our clients' feedback to meet their demands. We are constantly working with shooting and outdoor experts as well - they're sharing their great experience with us, so our products can be even more refined. That's why we're still growing, with no compromises nor shortcuts.

Our products are divided into lines to match the intentions of their designers. Those lines are not strict though and the whole offer is complementary, so we encourage you to come up with a set that specifically suits your needs.

Check our rich offer of tactical gear and join our #JourneyToPerfection!

Range Line

is almost everything an enthusiast of shooting, both dynamic and precise, could need. A wide selection of gun holsters, shooting range bags and clothing for shooters will allow you to choose fully compatible equipment. Helikon-Tex® is one of the few brands that also offer shooting clothing for women.

Outback Line

offers a wide selection of outdoor equipment, both for one-day trips, as well as for longer treks in demanding conditions. Here you will find outdoor clothes, expedition backpacks and accessories such as gaiters, hats and organizers. As part of this line, we also try to show our respect for nature, which is summarized by the slogan #NoTrashNoTrace. Outdoor equipment from the Outback Line is tested by experts of survival schools and hobby tourists.

Urban Line

is a selection of clothes and equipment for carrying EDC equipment in a comfortable and non-restrictive manner. It was created not only for civilian use but also in consultation with elite police units. Here you will find fleeces, jackets and shirts adapted to the concealed carrying of weapons, but also pants in which you can conveniently fit magazines without being conspicuous. Everything according to the principle to remain „low profile“, while operating in an urban environment.

Patrol Line

includes modern combat uniforms and equipment that can be used both on missions and during a visit to the shooting range. Field clothes in camouflages, backpacks for multi-day trips and classic uniforms are the foundation of this line.

Helikon-Tex® product lines divide our wide range of tactical and outdoor equipment into individual purposes and activities. Each line is developed by experts in a given field, who make sure that its products meet the needs of shooting enthusiasts, those who enjoy spending time in the mountains or in the woods, as well as professionals working in special forces. In each line you will find products that are compatible with each other and designed in such a way as to create useful sets. However, this does not change the fact that equipment and clothes from different lines can also be combined to create your own configurations. It is possible not only due to the appropriate cuts of clothes but also to the colors and patterns of camouflage, which appear in different lines.

Bushcraft Line

is a wide range of survival equipment that will allow you to prepare a camp in the woods, work safely with a knife or an axe and maintain complete freedom of movement while carrying a large amount of equipment.

A selection of durable and functional clothes and survival accessories will allow you to create the right set for each trip.

Medical Line

is an offer of tactical first aid kits and medical bags, created with the participation of special forces and outdoor experts, to be used everyday. Due to the functional design, your medical equipment will always be at hand and ready to use.

Helikon-Tex® first aid kits have various mounting systems and can be carried in different ways. You can easily attach them to your belt, backpack or bag.

Classic Line

is a real treasure trove for all fans of militaria, military uniforms, and tactical clothing. You will find here well proven types of uniforms, e.g. ACU, USMC, and BDU, and accessories.

Classic military shirts and trousers are available in various camouflages and materials so that every fan can find something for himself.

Law Enforcement Line

is a line of products designed for concealed carrying of weapons and equipment. To be ready and - at the same time - avoid any attention.

The offer of the Law Enforcement Line consists of shirts, trousers, etc., seemingly ordinary, but with the properties of tactical clothing. There are also accessories designed for concealed carry, such as holsters, belts, a special backpack, etc.

TROOPER JACKET MK2

SKU: KU-TRM-NL

OUTBACK LINE

DESCRIPTION:

Upgraded version of our popular jacket

The new edition of Trooper and the younger sibling of Blizzard in one product. Trooper Mk2 is a lightweight outdoor jacket with a more practical cut and better-fitted sizing. It allows free movement thanks to the slightly stretchy main material. It functions well as a tactical jacket, and its military heritage is evident from the hook & loop patches on the shoulders and a focus on functionality. The well-known and appreciated features of the Trooper and Blizzard jackets return in the modern incarnation as Trooper Mk2.

The primary material used is StormStretch®, a lightweight nylon with a hint of elastane, making the jacket comfortable and non-restrictive. It provides a light layer that protects against cold and moisture. Contributing to this is the thoughtfully designed hood, packable in the collar, with a well-shaped peak. The jacket also has well-planned pockets: two at chest height, two on the shoulders, and one internal.

ANORAK TRACER

DESCRIPTION:

Camouflage Anorak Jacket

The time has come for an upgraded version in camouflage. The Anorak Tracer is based on the Anorak Woodsman jacket but comes in several camo patterns and is better adapted for tactical operations. We've added shoulder and front pockets, as well as more adjustment points. The zippers on the sides open fully, allowing you to adjust the ventilation level to your needs and making the anorak easier to put on. Thus, the Anorak Tracer jacket works as a substitute for a combat shirt or a uniform jacket.

The Anorak Tracer Jacket is our first unisex product and features a spacious, loose, oversized fit that allows it to be worn over a fleece or light jacket like the Wolfhound Hoodie. The jacket comes equipped with a total of eight pockets: two zippered ones on the shoulders, a large main compartment with three pockets inside, and one on top. Additionally, there is a through pocket located under the main compartment of the jacket, close to the body, where you can keep your hands.

LOXRAY GLASSES POLARIZED SET

SKU: AG-LRP-PM

URBAN LINE

DESCRIPTION:

LoxRay universal glasses with a polarized visor and UV filter are an excellent addition to any EDC kit, as well as for use on trips, at the shooting range, or work. The frames are resistant to mechanical damage, and the lenses are made of polycarbonate, reinforced with a scratch-resistant and anti-fog coating. Additionally, the LoxRay lenses are covered with an oleophobic coating, protecting them from dirt. The Full Revo finish used in this model ensures that the user's eyes are protected from light reflections from water, snow, and urban environments.

The frame hinges close with a characteristic click, preventing the glasses from opening unintentionally and thus reducing the risk of damage. The glasses stay securely on the face thanks to the rubber anti-slip surface where the frames touch the body, i.e., behind the ears and on the nose.

Manufactured by standards: H Z87.1+, HZ87.1+ CE EN166 FT

BUSHCRAFT LINE

DESCRIPTION:

We've designed the Pilgrim® jacket for demanding outdoor activities in dynamically changing weather. Based on the zipped "kangaroo" construction proven for decades, it has been clearly refined to meet the expectations of modern travelers, while still hitting the aesthetics of the "old guard". Numerous pockets will allow for convenient placement of equipment, while their characteristic arrangement will make them constantly available, even when working in a sitting position or kneeling. We have elongated the whole construction of the jacket, thanks to which it protects our body regardless of the equipment we carry. By lowering the "kangaroo" pocket, we were also able to extend the front zipper of the jacket, which allows the user to better ventilate his body during strenuous approaches or work

Lots of pockets and comfort

Despite its military roots, the SAS Smock works great as a bushcraft jacket. This is mostly because of the simple but well-thought-out cut and capacity. Our smock jacket has eight pockets. On the outside, four classic, square pockets fastened with Canadian buttons. It is a tribute to the iconic British uniform jackets and their functionality. A pocket with a button sewn on the tape is easier to open, and the risk of the button falling off is minimal. Under the upper pockets, there are two more, fastened with zippers on the side. They are best for carrying flat items. Under the lower pockets, identical solutions allow you to hide and warm your hands. In each breast pocket, there is a special loop for attaching equipment, which protects it from loss. Bushcraft gloves can be attached to the paracord loops on both sides of the jacket.

MCDU PANTS

SKU: SP-MCD-DN

PATROL LINE

DESCRIPTION:

MCDU (Modern Combat Duty Uniform) pants are our response to the expectations for a modern combat uniform. Together with the MCDU combat shirt, it makes the first skin of the user, providing maximum comfort and functionality in all conditions. For the first time, we used DyNyCo, a material that stretches in four directions, as a base material. It has strength parameters similar to the standard NyCo, but additionally, our material contains elastic fibers. In vital areas (waist, crotch, and back of the knees) we used inserts made of Verstrech material. It dries quickly and has high breathability. The knee area is reinforced with Cordura® 500D fabric with slots for protective inserts. Thanks to additional drawstrings, located under the knee and at the bottom of the leg, the pants can be easily adjusted to the leg. The design of the trousers is inspired by the Polish uniform of the airborne troops, developed in the late 1950s. A total of 12 pockets allow you to arrange equipment. This solution makes the pants even more functional, especially on warm days or during long walking.

URBAN LINE

DESCRIPTION:

Until now it might have been totally inconceivable to even think of combining the classic UTP® functionality with more feminine outlook, demanded by some of our female clients. But now, ta-dam, here it is: a novel tactical skirt, an absolute first in our ladies' Urban Tactical collection, and as far as we know & the only one such on the market. Elastic waistband with velcro closure allow the skirt to be adjusted for size, while wide belt loops allow to use belts up to 50 mm wide. The fabric used is lightweight, breathable, and dries quickly. The front pocket edges are reinforced for lights or knives' mounting clips. Two rear pockets are wide enough to keep magazines. They have two smaller inner pockets for additional equipment. The thigh pockets layout is the same as in UTP®/UTS®. SWAGMAN ROLL PONCHO

SKU: PO-SMR-NL

BUSHCRAFT LINE

DESCRIPTION:

Once upon a time, the trappers, the trekkers and even the soldiers did not carry sleeping bags. They carried blanket rolls. Up until very recently, wool was the best blanket material. Then, still several decades ago, Nylon fabrics came into being. During the Vietnam War, there appeared a new blanket & the Poncho Liner. Ultra lightweight blanket doubling as warming liner for rain-protection poncho. In Australian slang 'swagman' means a travelling workman. Something like American cowboy or a trapper, occasionally on a lookout for a work on the Frontier. The difference was, the Australian swagman was traveling on foot, and carried all his belongings in a bed roll. With our Swagman Roll® we salute these intrepid men, trembling on chilly mornings in their moist blankets & but with our Swagman Roll® you'll never have to emulate that particular part of their lifestyle. It is made of thin Nylon fabric, filled with one of the best insulating materials mankind ever dreamed of & the Climashield® Apex™. Swagman Roll® is not your ordinary blanket. It is more of a multifunction tool, applicable wherever a warm cover is required. You can use it a poncho liner, emergency sleeping bag, enhance your regular sleeping bag with it, wrap in it as if it was a blanket, line your hammock with it & or just wear as a stand-alone long, warm coat.

FORESTER BUSHCRAFT BELT

BUSHCRAFT LINE

SKU: PS-FBB-CD

DESCRIPTION:

One belt to gather them all

Forester Belt is designed for comfortably carrying bushcraft items in the woods. A special mounting system on the belt loops keeps everything in check.

It complements the Helikon-Tex offer of carrying systems designed for bushcraft. The Forester Bushcraft Belt has one thing in common with the tactical belts: it can be worn on the outer layer of clothes, and it'll easily substitute typical outdoor bags or small backpacks. The Forester Bushcraft Belt nicely works with: SERE Pouch, Water Canteen Pouch, Compass/Survival Pouch, or a Survival Water Filter Bag. Together it will make a comfortable setting for bushcraft enthusiasts.

The origin of the Forester Bushcraft Belt dates back to the 1950s and the military conflict in Malaya. At that time, the SAS soldiers used nylon straps with clamps as tactical belts, which were obtained from straps securing loads dropped by parachutes. Over time, most British special units (SAS, SBS), marines, and paratroopers began to use the same solutions. The belt with a roll pin buckle was much better than the other options. It had a simple adjustment and adapted to the user's body.

With a partially stiffened construction it allows a stable carry of a holster with a pistol, as well as ammo pouches, med kits, and accessory items. Loop lining allows combination of the belt with an additional inner belt for stability during use. The belt is fastened with a genuine Cobra® Nautic buckle; the buckle is not only resistant to salt, dust, and debris, but is also much flatter than other Cobra® buckles, making it much more comfortable, even during prolonged use. What's more, the Nautic belt is a perfect choice for any modular belt sleeve.

An additional clasp secures the belt against accidental unfastening during dynamic movements. The nylon strap from which the belt is made is soft, but it will perfectly handle the basic EDC equipment, holsters, and first aid kits. Its compact, flat form allows it to be fit under the seats, in side door or seat pockets, while lack of sharp edges prevents snagging. The front part of the Med Kit has a large panel of loop velcro for individual marking, with a reflective panel for quick identification. Also handles are marked with reflective tape to facilitate their finding with minimal light. Thanks to a detachable shoulder strap, the Med Kit can be worn just like a messenger bag. The interior was designed as to allow customized compartmentalization to stow medical supplies. There are two zipper-closed flat inner pockets, made of mesh to allow quick identification of the contents without opening them. Elastic loops are provided to hold medical supplies. In case the bag is used as a shooting range med kit, those loops are ideal for holding individual pre-packaged field dressings. The loops are made of elasticized cord, and allow for individual adjustments depending on the type of the supplies held by the loop. Moreover the med bag contains a detachable, stiffened panel covered on both sides in loop-Velcro to attach hook-Velcro lined inserts (Versatile Insert System®-compatible) included in the kit. It was meant to be used for transporting occlusive dressings for the chest wounds & the stiffener prevents their bending, which might damage the bandage. SIGNAL MIRROR

SKU: KS-SGM-AC

BUSHCRAFT LINE

DESCRIPTION:

A small and simple rescue mirror

Little rescue mirror designed so that you can aim the sunlight reflected from it over long distances. Reflecting light over short distances is simple as long as you can see it on a tree or wall. At a great distance, an ordinary mirror cannot achieve such precision. The Signal Mirror has a special hole that works like a collimator. So you can aim the reflected light at greater distances. In case of emergency, you can call for help with an SOS signal by aiming at a ship or plane. Its visibility depends on sunlight, weather, and terrain, but in good conditions, the reflected light can be seen even from a distance of several kilometers. On the back of the Signal Mirror, there are instructions and an emergency button compass which makes it the simplest rescue kit possible.

FOXTROT MK2 BELT RIG®

SKU: TB-FX2-CD

BUSHCRAFT LINE

DESCRIPTION:

So far mankind has invented three noteworthy ways to carry field essentials: on the back, over the shoulder, or around ones hips. The backpack allows the heaviest loads to be carried, but shoulder bag gives faster access to the contents, while belt rig sort-of combines them both. For long hikes over uneven terrain, belt-carry is the wisest solution. It does not distort the body thermal regulation, spreads the load evenly, saving back-bone, and all items are within quick reach. The Foxtrot Mk2 Belt Rig can be worn as a stand-alone item or be worn with functional suspenders. The design is easily adjustable in all ranges. The Foxtrot comprises the main compartment with open-top sewn water bottle pockets, a partial belt at sides with MOLLE/PALS attachment points for modular pouches (med kit, knife pouch, cargo pouch etc.). ALICE and other 50-mm ribbon tapes based pouches can be attached. The main compartment comprises two zippered pockets with a velcro-closed one on the front. Additional Versatile Insert System-compatible inserts can be added within the main compartment. Rolled poncho or thin seating mat can be held under the top-of-the-pocket rubber band & or under the compression ribbons at the bottom. Suspenders are easily-adjustable with velcro at the back, they stabilize the load and spread the loads all over the wearer's frame. Foxtrot Mk is an ideal solution for Nordic Walking-style hikes.
